

Bryan Strader, MD

Physician Executive

TriHealth Physician Practices

Bryan Strader, MD is the Physician Executive of TriHealth Physician Partners and the System Chief of Inpatient Medicine. He joined TriHealth in 2006 as a hospitalist. Prior to this role, he served as Director of Hospital Medicine at Bethesda North Hospital for four years.

Under his leadership, the TriHealth Inpatient Group has expanded to encompass coverage of six separate hospitals, and the hospital medicine division has grown to 70 full and part-time board certified Internal Medicine physicians.

During his tenure at TriHealth, Dr. Strader has held served as the Physician Executive for the TriHealth Inpatient Institute and Chairman of the Board for the TPHO for 2 years. Dr. Strader currently serves as the Section Head of Hospital Medicine at Bethesda North Hospital and also the Assistant Chair of the Department of Medicine at BNH.

Dr. Strader received his undergraduate degree from Wheaton (IL) College and his medical degree from the University of Kentucky.

Dr. Strader enjoys traveling with his family, running, golfing and hiking. On a voluntary basis, he serves on the medical staff for Young Life International, a non-for-profit faith based camp for adolescents around the world.
