

Good Samaritan College of Nursing & Health Science

The financial struggle of college paired with the impending nursing shortage means the future of nursing and health care depend on generous donors that are willing to invest in the training and education of future clinicians. Thanks to our donors, GSC can provide both academic and financial resources to ensure that each and every student has the opportunity to thrive.

Grow 60%
by 2025

Nursing and allied health professionals are one of the fastest growing occupations in our region.

Nationally, there is a projected shortage of more than 500,000 nurses by the year 2030

The average student at GSC is 27 years old.

Invested in Student Success

Private scholarships from donors help to relieve the financial burden that college creates in the lives of students. Many of our students are parents and are responsible for providing for their families. Approximately 38% of students are considered low income, and 80% of students receive Federal Student Loans.

Because of our donor-supported scholarships, our students can work fewer hours to focus more on their studies, and are able to graduate without the anxiety of the debt that comes with student loans.

This academic year, our family of donors is providing 78 students with $330,466 in scholarship support, which is a record amount!

“Some would consider me a statistic who should have never made it. I grew up surrounded by poverty, drugs, and violence every single day. Despite this environment, my mother always stressed the value of education.”

So—after 20 years of marriage, raising children, and working as an LPN —I decided it was time to go back to school. I chose Good Sam College, and I am blessed that I did.

I worked extremely hard, and with the support of the amazing faculty and staff at GSC, am at the top of my class. This work enabled me to apply for a scholarship, supported by generous donors, which has made all the difference in the world.

A History of Excellence

The Good Samaritan College of Nursing & Health Science has been educating the future of nurses and health care professionals for 125 years. During that time, GSC has expanded class sizes, facilities, resources, and degree programs. GSC offers an education focused on patient care and technology integration to give students the training they need to become impactful clinicians after graduation, and the numbers don't lie.

83% of our students pass their NCLEX (national nursing exam) on their first attempt

98% of our students are placed in jobs at the time of their graduation, and 66% of our students are placed within the TriHealth system

GSC boasts an 84% retention rate

GSC graduates are renowned within the community. Our highly skilled and highly compassionate health care professionals are unique because their training occurs within the hospital and features a heavy emphasis on hands-on experience.
