

TriHealth Neuroscience Conference: “Stroke Care Today & Tomorrow” May 5, 2023 | Speaker Details

Mohamad Rahwan, MD

Mohamad Rahwan, MD is board certified in Psychiatry and Neurology. After watching his father cope with a heart condition, Dr. Rahwan became intrigued with the brain and nervous system and the impact they have on disease and recovery, leading him to specialize in neurology.

Dr. Rahwan has a special interest and is fellowship trained in treating epilepsy. He also sees adults with general neurological conditions, like stroke and dementia. Dr. Rahwan likes to focus on carefully listening to his patient’s experiences and digging into their history as he puts his exam and test results together to come up with a treatment plan. He believes in being honest and frank, setting realistic expectations about any plans. By setting a comfortable environment, he encourages his patients to share their experiences with him so they can manage treatment plans based on results.

A native of Syria, Dr. Rahwan and his wife have two young children. In his leisure time, he enjoys horseback riding, photography and swimming. While in Cleveland, he volunteered regularly at a free clinic.
