

TriHealth Neuroscience Conference: "Stroke Care Today & Tomorrow"
May 5, 2023 | Speaker Details

Jonathan Rapp, MD

Jonathan Rapp, MD graduated from The Ohio State University Wexner Medical Center in 2003 and is board certified in Cardiovascular disease and interventional cardiology. He specializes in coronary and structural heart disease interventions, including valve therapies and septal defect treatments.

Dr. Rapp finds medicine to be the perfect career for someone who wants to be a valuable community member and a lifelong learner. In cardiology, he values following a patient from critical care in the hospital to outpatient care and developing long-term relationships.

Dr. Rapp and his wife have three children. After completing his education, he decided to return to his native Cincinnati. He enjoys spending time with his family, playing violin, and cheering on Ohio State sports teams.
